Online Challenges and Connections

The Merry Month of May How are you doing with the JCCLibrary Book Challenge? You have until May 31st to complete! Board and instructions on www.calvertlibrary.org.

Monday, May 4th – May The Fourth Be With You! Watch a Star Wars movie! Make a Star Wars themed craft or picture and send to the library Facebook page!

Novel-Tea Bookclub - We may not be meeting in the library but we can try online. Leave a message by text or phone if you want to give it a try! The books chosen are free kindle books. Choices are Banana Cream Pie Murder by Joanne Fluke or Rescuing Reeve by Amy Waeschle. We will decide on a date and time together.

May 10th – 16th - All Things Culinary Cook Book Club is challenging all cooks, chefs or anyone looking for some fun, with a cook-off challenge! During the week of May 10th (Mother's Day!) and May 16th, create a special dinner like chili & cornbread, steak & veggies, anything to celebrate Mom or being home together. Send a picture to our facebook page!

More fun on our website - We now offer more free ebooks for children and teens on MackinVIA. More links to books and storytelling, crafting, music, exercise and wellness will be added weekly.

Join us in creating the Franklin History Room located under the Research Tab on our webpage. JCCLibrary and the Ashbel Woodward Museum would like to chronicle happenings, photos and stories you did during the Covid-19 crisis. Instructions are on the webpage.

We will also be collecting all Franklin photos and memories in the coming months.

Need a library card? Go to our webpage at calvertlibrary.org and register for one today! This gives you access to all of the programs we have to offer for free!
